

Comets Win First Basketball Championship

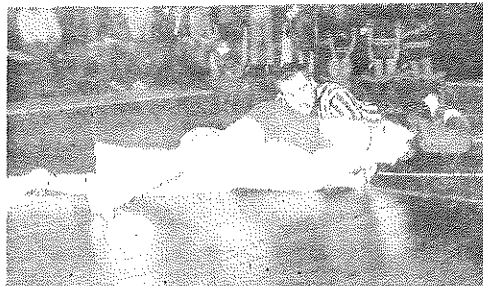

The Comets couldn't be stopped as they defeated Kimball, Plankinton and Ethan to win the CBH Championship. As far as it is known this is the first championship game that Corsica has ever won in basketball.

Many people doubted the Comets ability to beat Plankinton after a 49-41 victory over the Kimball Coyotes. But the Comets were hot Friday night as they defeated the Plankinton Pirates 60-49 enabling them to advance to the championship round of play on Saturday night, January 8.

The game started off similar to most championship games, both teams and cheering sections were fired-up and ready for action. After the first quarter of the game everyone looked for a close exciting game but it wasn't long before the Comets took the lead. However, it wasn't until the first part of the fourth quarter when the Comets pulled thirty points ahead of the Rustlers that the Comets realized that they were about to win their first championship trophy. With

At the present time Jim's record stands at 5-1 with a light-weight champion trophy received at the Freeman Invitational tournament. Kevin Van Genderen, 105 lb. wrestler, a sophomore in his second year of wrestling has a record of 5-1. Rod Schrank, the heavy-weight senior, has an outstanding record of 6-0 and also a Freeman Invitational champion trophy. Rod, also a second year wrestler is ranked third in the state. MUSIC DEPARTMENT PRESENTS CONCERT

December 21, the music department of CHS presented a fantastic Christmas Concert. The concert was very well attended and many fine comments were heard afterward. The band was first to perform. It played a variety of numbers that most everyone enjoyed. The swing choir, pictured above, set the stage for Christmas with a fireplace and Christmas tree and a selection of beautiful Christmas songs. Last on the program, the mixed chorus, sang a variety of songs that appealed to everyone.

Much to the same style of the concert a program of Corsica High School music department was played on Christmas night at 7:00 P.M. over WNAX radio.

Principal's comments

The following article, taken from the associated School Boards of South Dakota bulletin dated January 1, 1972, seems to me to sum up what we are trying to accomplish in education. This should be the goal of all the youth of this nation. It is a lofty goal, and not all can achieve the same degree of maturity.

WHAT'S MATURITY?

Maturity is many things; first, it is the ability to base a judgment on the big picture, or the long haul so to speak. It means being able to pass up the fun-for-the-minute and select the course of action which will pay off later.

Maturity is the ability to stick with a project until it is completed, or to stick with a difficult situation until finally resolved.

Maturity is the capacity to face unpleasantness, frustrations, discomfort and defeat without complaint or collapse.

Maturity is the ability to live up to your responsibilities, and this means being dependable. The world is filled with people who can't be counted on, people who never seem to come through in the clutches, people who break promises and substitute alibis for performance.

Maturity is the ability to make a decision and stand by it. Immature people spend their lives exploring endless possibilities and then do nothing. Action requires courage. And there is no maturity without courage.

Maturity is the ability

IT'S A GIRLS SCHOOL, TOO!

Discrimination is one of the greatest problems of today's world. I am beginning to feel that CHS also has this problem. We girls are discriminated against. Several years ago there was a home economics class here but when or why it went out, I don't know. All I know is that it isn't fair. What about girls' sports? Don't we at least deserve a chance at that? We're proud of the sports accomplishments of our boys but if given the chance, we just might prove to be talented in that field, too. Not only are we not given the chance to take part in the sports, but we are not given the credit deserved for the part we do play.

For instance, this year at games the pep club has been doing a lot better than I can remember from the past years I've been a part of the high school. If a game proves to be rather uninteresting, it really takes will power and loyalty to your team to stay in your seat and yell but I think we've fulfilled this task nicely. And what about the cheerleaders? Don't you agree that they are five of the best cheerleaders we've had the privilege of following in a long time? It's because they care and want others to care too. So why shouldn't we all have a chance to make something of ourselves and our school? Remember, it's our school too!

I think it has come to the point of really being a problem. We know that we cannot solve the world's discrimination problems but we should do our best! Let's begin at home. BZ

CORSICA HIGH SCHOOL TO PRESENT MUSICAL

On Wednesday, Corsica High received its first reading copies of a musical comedy which we are going to put on in the spring. It will take much hard work by a big cast and staff but the efforts are generally well repaid when the performance is ready.

The musical is Merideth Wilson's, "The Music Man," based on the rousing melody of "Seventy Six Trombones." It is a story of a fraudulent instrument salesman who sells band instruments to youngsters on the grounds that this will keep them out of trouble. In the act of his scheme he mistakenly falls in love with a librarian.

The setting is in Iowa and all of the characters are very common stubborn Iowans. The cast requires a few town "kids" that will probably be chosen from the grade school in order to keep the play in proportion.

In casting a musical, one runs into some peculiar problems. One is getting people who can act and sing too, for the lead roles. We will be contacting people for the parts we feel they will fill best. For those parts that do not require a lot of singing, we will hold a tryout session some time this month. Practice will start early in February and will be long and hard; hopefully enjoyable. If you are chosen and accept, plan right away to make the practices as each part is very important in the timing of a musical.

This is a wonderful opportunity. Plan now to take advantage of it. Be thinking of what type of part you want. There are townspeople, school members seven salesmen, a half dozen teenage girls, several middle aged women and others. Tryouts will be coming soon so watch the bulletin boards in the halls.

Everyone enjoys concert

The well attended music concert seemed to be enjoyed by everyone there. A better than usual rendition of a variety of numbers for a Christmas concert was presented. The band has greatly improved considering all the younger players involved. Mixed chorus looked very uniform with their gowns and white collars. Each singer could keep his eyes on the director, since the songs were all memorized. The swing choir sang and acted out songs that appealed to all. Each and every number of the program was well done and many could have enjoyed listening even longer. The music students feel that all their effort was well worth the time and practice.

December 22 at 12:45, all the high school students went to the gym for the Christmas party.

First each class performed a skit. The freshmen had a fashion show, with the boys dressed up as ladies. The sophomores put on a skit of "The Dating Game", with Brent Uilenburg as the speaker. The juniors put on "Juvenile Jury", with Russell Metzger as the speaker, plus another small skit. The seniors put on various comical skits, one supposedly a gag for the teachers, but somebody blew it! A few of the teachers judged the skits and decided the sophomores were the best. They received $8.00 for the prize. After this the swing choir sang a few Christmas songs. Finally the class officers passed out the gifts. The teachers served all the high school students candy bars and pop for lunch. Then school was dismissed.

Everyone enjoyed their vacation and didn't come back until the third of January.

PLANS FOR PROM

While everyone is studying and working the juniors are getting the taste of what preparing a prom really amounts to. We have finally decided the date would be Friday, the fifth of May. Although we are talking of a theme we haven't decided for sure. We have slightly talked of the colors. What we have done is started the immense confusion of trying to organize committees to decide upon the lunch, decorating and the band.

ARE grades SYMBOLS OF A PERSON'S ABILITIES?

This article was given to the staff by a person who would like his name to remain anonymous.

Grades have often been thought of as symbols of a person's educational ability. There is, in some students, an intense desire to out-do his classmates by receiving higher grades. In others, there is only an apathetic expression given to the entire educational system. All this creates an atmosphere of competition for students. But competition for grades is actually an unhealthy influence on students.

Some people have the mistaken idea that competition for grades gives students something to work for. This is true of some people but many feel that the only way to "beat" their classmates is to use them to their own advantage. They may be of the opinion, "If he knows everything, why shouldn't he share some of that with me?" And how can a person honestly and truly accept praise for a "job well done", when all he did was copy from someone else's paper?

Competition can quite easily make enemies. Those who have higher capabilities may, in some cases, look down on those who are not as intelligent as they are. They may feel that they are in some way superior and may shun those who they feel are not as good. In the opposite direction, those who are not as intelligent may despise those who can do better than they simply because they are jealous of them. They may give them cruel nicknames or describe them as villains to other people. But while they are despising each other, are they actually working as hard as they could be?

Parents have a tendency to take pride in their children and may sometimes compare them. If a child does not or cannot do as well as his brothers and sisters, his parents may punish him in some way or merely express their displeasure. In doing this they may stifle many creative instincts or any desire the child may have had to do better.

Aside from all the other points which have been made about greater and lesser capacities, one must take into consideration the students a person is competing against. A student may be competing against other students who have nowhere near his educational abilities. Whether they have less ability or more is of little consequence. What really matters is the fact that students can only function in their capacity. Teachers can only do so much to help, but parents can do something, understand. They must learn that they can't

COMETS CAPTURE CBH TITLE

CBH Tournament was held at Stickney starting on the 3rd of January. Corsica knew they had to win for more reasons than just the sake of winning. First there was the pressure of the paper picking Ethan over Corsica in the championship game. Second there was the fact that Corsica had no record of winning a championship of any kind in basketball. These were all factors against Corsica. Considering all of these, coach Bob Krietlow wasn't easily scared off. He knew as well as the players they had to play good defense in order to win. They proved it by beating Kimball 49 to 41.

It was a close game all the way and Corsica was still hindered by the low shooting percentage. Scoring for Corsica was Randy Jendersee who led the way on the boards with 10 rebounds and scoring 15 points. He wasn't alone as Elwood Vanden Berge pulled down 7 rebounds and scored 14 points. Russell Metzger showed his power by coming off the bench and scoring 11 needed points.

Corsica then continued to second round action by taking on Plankinton who defeated White Lake. Corsica did more than beat

COMETS COME THROUGH AGAIN

Defense once again saved Corsica from a lose by holding Letcher to only 32 points. Corsica offense, which was not up to par-shooting, amounted to only 25 per cent. Scoring for Corsica was Randy Jendersee with 17, Danny Noteboom continued col. 3

Plankinton, they also broke their shooting jinx, shooting 48%. Their shooting percent and the fact of their great defense put Corsica far out of the reach of Plankinton with a ending score of 60 to 49. Randy Jendersee again shows his talent by putting in 20 rebounds. Next in line was Elwood Vanden Berge who had 11 points, also scoring in double figures was Danny Noteboom. This win put Corsica in the championship game against Ethan.

Corsica for the first time took home a championship trophy in basketball. What was suppose to be a close game turned out to be a run away game. Corsica shooting 43% and playing tremendous job of defense earned them the title of CBH conference champions.

Leading Corsica was Randy Jendersee with 15 points and 15 rebounds, next in line was Elwood Vanden Berge with 12 points and 11 rebounds. Keith Sprecher scored 12 points; George Romkema dumped in 9 and pulled down 9 rebounds, and also scoring was Danny Noteboom with 6. Throughout the game it was shown that defense wins games or it can be one of the leading factors in winning.

TRY IT, YOU'LL LIKE IT!

by Bev Zwart

"Saturday night. Nothing to do. Nothing going on up-town. I guess I'll just go to the wrestling match in school. It's better than sitting home." Sound like something you might say? Well, that's a quote--from me. I did go to that wrestling match that Saturday night. And you'll never guess - I liked it! At first I only stood in the doorway and watched rather abstractly. After a while, my feet began to get tired so I went and sat on the bleachers. Due to the lack of anything else to look at, I watched the wrestlers. Oh dear, one of our guys was going to let that big bully from out of town crawl right on top of him. While those around me were yelling, "Reversal! Reversal!" I was yelling, "Don't let him get on top of you! I think it's supposed to be the other way around!" As continued page 7

play contest

coming soon

The annual state one act play contest will be held January 21 and 22 at Sioux Falls. We will be competing against such schools as Sioux Falls O'Gorman, Mitchell, Armour, Yankton and Hurley.

We will present the play "An Occurrence at Owl Creek." It is a dramatic play taking place during the Civil War. Mrs. Keith and Mr. Wilson are the directors. The cast consists of George Romkema, who portrays a civilian arsonist trying to save the South, Margie Vanzee, his wife, with Nancy Scholten and Ginger Schrank, their daughters. The Union officer and soldier are played by Keith Sprecher and Russell Metzger. Dan Noteboom is the stage manager.

Safety Council discuss projects

Wednesday, January 6, 1972, the CHS Safety Council met at 2:30 to discuss various projects for the coming year.

Three projects the Safety Council are planning for are as follows: A Pedestrian Safety Program and Bicycle Safety Program for kindergarten through sixth grades. Also, we are trying to obtain, for the High School the film "Wheels of Tragedy", which was shown last year at the Safety Conference. We feel this is a very worthwhile film.

No definite date has been set as to when these projects will be carried out.

COMPLAINTS FOUND UNJUST

by Dan Everson

I am writing this to the anonymous writer of the article "What Good are Study Hall" in the previous issue of The Comet.

A few of the statements which you made could have been true, had you not exaggerated them far out of proportion.

The first claim you made was that a great number of the students (50% in your words) assigned to 7th period study hall, leave school at 2:40. If you would take the time to check, you would find that several students have permanent passes to leave at this time to go to a job. Is this skipping? Several of the larger, and supposedly more advanced schools ask their students to spend half of each day working at a job which is related to their field of study. The intended purpose of high school is to prepare its students for later life. Work experience has largely the same effect.

Your next claim was that it was impossible to study in the 7th period study hall because the teachers permit the students to talk. It is true that the study hall teachers did not require the students to be quiet, but I feel, along with many others, that it was not a handicap. Rather, it contributed to the over all attitude of the students. Many students have told me and I feel the same way, that it is much harder to study now in the crowded studyhalls where the teacher makes everyone stay in the room and be quiet, than it was before you wrote your article and the students were relatively free during this period. As far as the room being to noisy to study in, this was not the case.

The students not wishing to study for various reasons would usually gather in a small group in a corner of the room enabling all who wished to study to move to a part of the room away from the group. If a person really wished to study, the talking in the other part of the room would not bother him. Still, if it did, he could do as you did, and go to the library, or the science room, although this would not be necessary.

I have one more fact that I would like to call to your attention, a short time before you wrote your article, several freshmen had to write 300 word themes for leaving study hall for a short time without signing out.

You made several other claims in your article, but as a whole they were so exaggerated that I won't even comment on them, but I think that complaints such as you made, should be brought to the proper personal. By exaggerating your claims all out of proportion, and having them published in the school paper, for others schools to read, you succeed only in unjustly damaging the reputations of our school.

HOW IMPORTANT ARE GRADES!

by Chuck Holstein

What do grades mean in high school? Most of you underclassmen don't worry about grades right now, you should. As you all know, Wednesday, Coach Molde was here to talk to some of the senior football players about coming to Sioux Falls College, because I and some of the others failed to study when we were freshmen and sophomores we didn't receive as high an offer for a scholarship as some of those who had studied. I know when you are a freshman and sophomore, being a senior seems a hundred years off, but it isn't. You horse around, and come to school for a good time, or just to escape from some

the match progressed, I became even more involved. Around me I could hear phrases like, "Don't let 'im pin you!" while I was yelling, "Kick him or something! Don't just lay there while he sits on you!" Okay, so my grammar was inappropriate but my excitement was sincere.

My honest evaluation of myself at the end of the match was that I was more worn out from excitement than the wrestlers themselves. So far the wrestlers haven't won a match but as I watched them, I could see why. There really isn't anything to work for. No one supports them, they're on their own to accomplish for their own satisfaction only. All I can say is to just try and attend one match to see what it's all about and you just might be surprised to find that you're excited, too.

kind of manual labor at home and don't really care about what grades you get as long as you pass. I know I was one of those kids who did this, I would go to school for a good time, at night attend local parties. Time seemed to pass quickly and suddenly we were in our junior year, and someone started to mention something about college, this still didn't affect me until the beginning of my senior year. Now I sit home and cram and study trying to improve my class ranking and my grade point average. I want you to know, especially you freshmen and sophomores when teachers tell you to study, do it, and when you have time study on your own it may seem like a lot of work not, but believe me you'll never regret it as long as you live. If you don't study you won't realize it until you're a senior and try to get admitted into college. Believe me, I know!

HAPPILY REPORTS!

For the first time in more than ten years, we are happy to be able to report that total highway deaths through accident for the preceding year have gone down. Much of this reduction is due to the safety features which have been installed in new vehicles since 1966. The number of vehicles with such devices is now large enough to show an effect on the overall fatality figures. This is an encouraging sign, and we commend the Federal and private safety agencies that are carrying out important research designed to create safer cars and safer highways.
